CISNEROS, SANDRA (b. 1954) Sandra Cisneros was born in 1954 in Chicago, Illinois. Her father is Mexican and her mother is Mexican-American. She has six brothers. During her childhood, the family moved frequently between Mexico City and Chicago. She recalls a great deal of loneliness from the constant moves as well as from not having a sister. Cisneros was very shy, and spent a great deal of time reading. The Little House was her favorite book, because it described the kind of stable family home she longed for.

Cisneros wrote in secret during her elementary school years. By the time she was in high school she was writing poetry and editing the school literary magazine. While in a creative writing class in college in 1974 she began writing seriously, and developing her own unique voice. She received her B. A. in English from Loyola University in Chicago, and her M. A. from the writing program at the University of Iowa. since she was the only minority female in the class, she felt like an outsider. This feeling led her to develop her unique writing style.

Ms. Cisneros currently lives and writes in San Antonio, Texas.
INTRODUCTION

This unit has been designed to develop students' reading, writing, thinking, listening and speaking skills through exercises and activities related to The House on Mango Street by Sandra Cisneros. It includes twenty lessons, supported by extra resource materials.

The introductory lesson introduces students to one main theme of the novel, growing up as a minority female, through a KWL activity. Following the introductory activity, students are given an explanation of how the activity relates to the book they are about to read.

The reading assignments are approximately twenty-five pages each; some are a little shorter while others are a little longer. Students have approximately 15 minutes of pre-reading work to do prior to each reading assignment. This pre-reading work involves reviewing the study questions for the assignment and doing some vocabulary work for 6 to 10 vocabulary words they will encounter in their reading.

The study guide questions are fact-based questions; students can find the answers to these questions right in the text. These questions come in two formats: short answer or multiple choice. The best use of these materials is probably to use the short answer version of the questions as study guides for students (since answers will be more complete), and to use the multiple choice version for occasional quizzes. It might be a good idea to make transparencies of your answer keys for the overhead projector.

The vocabulary work is intended to enrich students' vocabularies as well as to aid in the students' understanding of the book. Prior to each reading assignment, students will complete a two-part worksheet for approximately 8 to 10 vocabulary words in the upcoming reading assignment. Part I focuses on students' use of general knowledge and contextual clues by giving the sentence in which the word appears in the text. Students are then to write down what they think the words mean based on the words' usage. Part II gives students dictionary definitions of the words and has them match the words to the correct definitions based on the words' contextual usage. Students should then have an understanding of the words when they meet them in the text.

After each reading assignment, students will go back and formulate answers for the study guide questions. Discussion of these questions serves as a review of the most important events and ideas presented in the reading assignments.

After students complete extra discussion questions, there is a vocabulary review lesson which pulls together all of the separate vocabulary lists for the reading assignments and gives students a review of all of the words they have studied.
Following the reading of the book, two lessons are devoted to the extra discussion questions/writing assignments. These questions focus on interpretation, critical analysis and personal response, employing a variety of thinking skills and adding to the students' understanding of the novel. These questions are done as a group activity. Using the information they have acquired so far through individual work and class discussions, students get together to further examine the text and to brainstorm ideas relating to the themes of the novel.

The group activity is followed by a reports and discussion session in which the groups share their ideas about the book with the entire class; thus, the entire class gets exposed to many different ideas regarding the themes and events of the book.

There are three writing assignments in this unit, each with the purpose of informing, persuading, or having students express personal opinions. The first assignment is to inform: students will read a piece of non-fiction related to The House on Mango Street and write a brief report on the piece. The second assignment is to persuade: students will take the role of one character and argue persuasively with another character. The third assignment is to express a personal opinion: students will write a memoir of their own in the style of Sandra Cisneros.

The nonfiction reading assignment for this unit will be done in conjunction with Writing Assignment #1. Students are required to read a piece of nonfiction related in some way to The House on Mango Street. After reading their nonfiction pieces, students will fill out a worksheet on which they answer questions regarding facts, interpretation, criticism, and personal opinions. During one class period, students make oral presentations about the nonfiction pieces they have read. This not only exposes all students to a wealth of information, it also gives students the opportunity to practice public speaking.

The review lesson pulls together all of the aspects of the unit. The teacher is given four or five choices of activities or games to use which all serve the same basic function of reviewing all of the information presented in the unit.

The unit tests come in two formats: all multiple choice-matching-true/false or with a mixture of matching, short answer, and composition. As a convenience, two different tests for each format have been included.

There are additional support materials included with this unit. The resource materials sections includes suggestions for an in-class library, crossword and word search puzzles related to the novel, and extra vocabulary worksheets. There is a list of bulletin board ideas which gives the teacher suggestions for bulletin boards to go along with this unit. In addition, there is a list of extra class activities the teacher could choose from to enhance the unit or as a substitution for an exercise the teacher might feel is inappropriate for his/her class. Answer keys are located directly after the reproducible student materials throughout the unit. The student materials may be reproduced for use in the teacher's classroom without infringement of copyrights. No other portion of this unit may be reproduced without the written consent of Teacher's Pet Publications.
UNIT PLAN ADAPTATIONS

Block Schedule

Depending on the length of your class periods, and the frequency with which the class meets, you may wish to choose one of the following options:

! Complete two of the daily lessons in one class period.
! Have students complete all reading and writing activities in class.
! Assign all reading to be completed out of class, and concentrate on the worksheets and discussions in class.
! Assign the projects from Daily Lesson Fifteen at the beginning of the unit, and allow time each day for students to work on them.
! Use some of the Unit and Vocabulary Resource activities during every class.

Gifted & Talented / Advanced Classes

! Emphasize the projects and the extra discussion questions.
! Have students complete all of the writing activities.
! Assign the reading to be completed out of class and focus on the discussions in class.
! Encourage students to develop their own questions.

ESL / ELD

! Assign a partner to help the student read the text aloud.
! Tape record the text and have the student listen and follow along in the text.
! Give the student the study guide worksheets to use as they read.
! Provide pictures and demonstrations to explain difficult vocabulary words and concepts.
UNIT OBJECTIVES The House on Mango Street

1. Through reading The House on Mango Street students will analyze characters and their situations to better understand the themes of the novel.

2. Students will demonstrate their understanding of the text on four levels: factual, interpretive, critical, and personal.

3. Students will practice reading aloud and silently to improve their skills in each area.

4. Students will enrich their vocabularies and improve their understanding of the novel through the vocabulary lessons prepared for use in conjunction with it.

5. Students will answer questions to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of the main events and characters in The House on Mango Street.

6. Students will practice writing through a variety of writing assignments.

7. The writing assignments in this are geared to several purposes:
   a. To check the students' reading comprehension
   b. To make students think about the ideas presented by the novel
   c. To make students put those ideas into perspective
   d. To encourage critical and logical thinking
   e. To provide the opportunity to practice good grammar and improve students' use of the English language.

8. Students will read aloud, report, and participate in large and small group discussions to improve their public speaking and personal interaction skills.

DAILY LESSON PLANS
LESSON ONE

Student Objectives
1. To receive books and other related materials (study guides, reading assignment)
2. To relate prior knowledge to the new material
3. To develop research skills
4. To write to inform by developing and organizing facts to convey information
5. To begin Writing Assignment #1 and the Nonfiction assignment

Activity #1
Show students pictures of barrio life in a major city such as Los Angeles or Chicago. Then do a group KWL Sheet with the students. Some students will know something about Sandra Cisneros or The House on Mango Street and will have information to share. Put this information in the K column (What I Know.) Ask students what they want to find out from reading the book and record this in the W column (What I Want to Find Out.) Keep the sheet and refer back to it after reading the book. Complete the L column (What I Learned) at that time.

Activity #2
Distribute the materials students will use in this unit. Explain in detail how students are to use these materials.

Study Guides Students should preview the study guide questions before each reading assignment to get a feeling for what events and ideas are important in that section. After reading the section, students will (as a class or individually) answer the questions to review the important events and ideas from that section of the book. Students should keep the study guides as study materials for the unit test.

Reading / Writing Assignment Sheet You need to fill in the reading and writing assignment sheet to let students know when their reading has to be completed. You can either write the assignment sheet on a side blackboard or bulletin board and leave it there for students to see each day, or you can duplicate copies for each student to have. In either case, you should advise students to become very familiar with the reading assignments so they know what is expected of them.

Unit Outline You may find it helpful to distribute copies of the Unit Outline to your students so they can keep track of upcoming lessons and assignments. You may also want to post a copy of the Unit Outline on a bulletin board and cross off each lesson as you complete it.

Extra Activities Center The Unit Resource portion of this unit contains suggestions for a library of related books and articles in your classroom as well as crossword and word search puzzles. Make an extra activities center in your room where you will keep these materials for students to use. Bring the books and articles in from the library and keep several copies of the puzzles on hand. Explain to students that these materials are available for students to use when they finish reading assignments or other class work early.

Books Each school has its own rules and regulations regarding student use of school books. Advise students of the procedures that are normal for your school.

Notebook or Unit Folder You may want the students to keep all of their worksheets, notes, and other papers for the unit together in a binder or notebook. During the first class meeting, tell them how you want them to arrange the folder. Make divider pages for vocabulary worksheets, prereading study guide questions, review activities, notes, and tests. You may want to give a grade for accuracy in keeping the folder.

Activity #3
Assign one of the following topics (or topics of your choice) to each of the students. Distribute Writing Assignment #1 and the Nonfiction Assignment sheet and discuss them. Students should fill this out the Nonfiction Assignment sheet for at least one of the sources they used and submit it along with their report.

Suggested Topics
1. The traditional and changing roles of women in Latino culture.
2. The traditional and changing roles of men in Latino culture.
3. The history of Hispanic inhabitants and culture in the United States.
4. Barrio life in Chicago, Los Angeles, or any other major city.
5. Multiculturalism in the United States.
6. Chicano / Chicana writers.
7. Immigration from Mexico to the United States.
8. Hispanic America mourning and burial ceremonies and practices.
KWL

Directions: Before reading, think about what you already know about Sandra Cisneros and/or The House on Mango Street. Write the information in the K column. Think about what you would like to find out from reading the book. Write your questions in the W column. After you have read the book, use the L column to write the answers to your questions from the W column, and anything else you remember from the book.

WRITING ASSIGNMENT #1 - House on Mango Street

PROMPT
You are reading a semi-autobiographical novel about the life of a young Hispanic American girl. The setting is present day, in the Latino section of Chicago. In order to better understand the novel, you must first understand more about the author / narrator's cultural heritage and background.

PREWRITING
Your teacher may assign a topic or allow you to choose one. You will then go to the library to research the topic. Look for encyclopedias, books, magazine articles, videos, and Internet sources. You may want to interview an expert on the topic of your choice.

Think of questions you have about your topic. Write each one on a separate index card. Then read to find the answers, and write them on the cards. Also take notes on interesting and important facts, even if you did not have questions about them. Put each fact on a separate card. Make sure to cite your references. That means to write down the title of the book or article, the author, and the page number for each one.

Arrange your note card in the order you want to use for your paper. Number them, perhaps in the upper right hand corner. Read through them to make sure they make sense in that order. Rearrange as necessary.

DRAFTING
Introduce your topic in the first paragraph. Tell why you chose it, and give a preview of what the rest of the paper will be about. Then write several paragraphs about the topic. Each paragraph should have a main idea and supporting details. Your last paragraph should summarize the information in the report.

PEER CONFERENCE/REVISING
When you finish the rough draft, ask another student to look at it. You may want to give the student your note cards so he/she can double check for you and see that you have included all of the information. After reading, he or she should tell you what he/she liked best about your report, which parts were difficult to understand or needed more information, and ways in which your work could be improved. Reread your report considering your critic's comments and make the corrections you think are necessary.

PROOFREADING/EDITING
Do a final proofreading of your report, double-checking your grammar, spelling, organization, and the clarity of your ideas.

PUBLISHING
Follow your teacher's directions for making a final copy of your report.

NON FICTION ASSIGNMENT SHEET - House on Mango Street
(To be completed after reading the required nonfiction article)

Name _____________________________ Date _________________ Class/ ___________

Title of Nonfiction Read ____________________________________________________

Author _____________________________ Publication Date ___________________

I. Factual Summary: Write a short summary of the piece you read.

II. Vocabulary:
   1. Which vocabulary words were difficult?

   2. What did you do to help yourself understand the words?

III. Interpretation: What was the main point the author wanted you to get from reading his/her work?

IV. Criticism:
   1. Which points of the piece did you agree with or find easy to believe? Why?

   2. With which points of the piece did you disagree or find difficult to believe? Why?

V. Personal Response:
   1. What do you think about this piece?

   2. How does this piece help you better understand the novel The House on Mango Street?
LESSON TWO

Objectives
1. To discuss the form and genre of the novel
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "The House on Mango Street" through "Laughter"
3. To preview the study questions for chapters titled "The House on Mango Street" through "Laughter"
4. To read chapters titled "The House on Mango Street" through "Laughter"

Activity #1
Tell students that critics of the novel as well as literature scholars disagree on the genre of the book. Make sure students understand the characteristics of the following genres: children's literature, short story, novel, essay, autobiography, poetry, women's studies, ethnic literature. Tell students to think of these as they read, and form a conclusion as to where they would place the book.

Activity #2
Work through the prereading vocabulary worksheet with the students. Tell them they will have a sheet like this to complete before reading each section of the book.

Activity #3
Show students how to preview the study questions. Encourage students to predict what they think answers might be, to write down their predictions, and to compare these with their answers after reading the chapters.

Activity #4
You may want to read "The House on Mango Street" aloud to the students to set the mood for the novel. Invite willing students to read successive chapters aloud to the rest of the class.
LESSON THREE

Objectives

1. To discuss the main ideas and events in chapters titled "The House on Mango Street" through "Laughter"
2. To understand the concept of voice in the novel

Activity #1

Discuss the answers to the Study Guide questions for chapters titled "The House on Mango Street" through "Laughter" in detail. Write the answers on the board or overhead projector so students can have the correct answers for study purposes. Encourage students to take notes. If the students own their books, encourage them to use highlighter pens to mark important passages and the answers to the study guide questions.

Note: It is a good practice in public speaking and leadership skills for individual students to take charge of leading the discussion of the study questions. Perhaps a different student could go to the front of the class and lead the discussion each day that the study questions are discussed during this unit. Of course, the teacher should guide the discussion when appropriate and be sure to fill in any gaps the students leave.

Activity #2 Minilesson: Voice

Tell students that voice is the quality of a piece of writing that makes it the author's own. Writers work to develop a distinct, individual voice. When Sandra Cisneros was enrolled in the Iowa Writer's Workshop in the late 1970s, she was the only Mexican American woman in the group. She realized that she could not write in the same way as her classmates, because her life experiences as a poor girl living in a barrio were so different from what they had experienced. She began to write about the things she knew, and developed her own voice. Ask students to listen for the voice in the novel as they read.

LESSON FOUR

Objectives

1. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "Gil's Furniture Bought and Sold" through "There Was an Old Woman . . ."
2. To preview the study questions
3. To read the chapters

Activity #1

Have students work in small groups to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet. They can also discuss the study guide questions, and predict answers.

Activity #2

Have students read the chapters aloud or silently, depending on their needs and abilities. You may want to let the quicker students read ahead silently while you conduct an oral reading of the story with the students who need more guidance.
LESSON FIVE

Objectives
1. To discuss the main ideas and events in chapters titled "Gil's Furniture Bought and Sold" through "There Was an Old Woman . . ."
2. To understand character development by discussing Esperanza's character

Activity #1
Invite volunteers to briefly summarize each chapter. Then have them give the answers to the study guide questions. Encourage students to look back through the chapters to find any answers they missed.

Activity #2 Minilesson: Character
Explain that an author creates a character, in this case Esperanza Cordero, by giving her traits such as physical attributes, thoughts, and feelings. The author develops these traits by telling what the character says, does, and thinks. Writers usually base their characters at least in part on a real person or persons, and then elaborate. (The life of the narrator, Esperanza Cordero, is in many ways similar to that of Sandra Cisneros.) A good writer will make the characters believable for the readers.

Explain that this is a "coming-of-age" story, where the central character becomes more aware of herself because of events that occur. In this novel, the awareness comes because of Esperanza's experiences growing up in the barrio neighborhood in Chicago.

Have students look for Esperanza's character traits as they begin reading. After they have read the first three chapters, help them begin filling in the Character Trait Chart. Tell them they should continue to be aware of Esperanza's character as they read, and that they will continue the discussion and complete more of the chart during Lesson 16.
LESSON SIX

Objectives
1. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "Alicia Who Sees Mice" through "A Rice Sandwich"
2. To preview the study questions
3. To read the chapters
4. To read aloud for evaluation

Activity #1
Give students ten or fifteen minutes to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet and preview the study guide questions.

Activity #2
Tell students their oral reading ability will be evaluated. Show them copies of the Oral Reading Evaluation Form and discuss it. Model correct intonation and expression by reading the first few paragraphs of "Alicia Who Sees Mice" aloud.

Activity #3
Call on individual students to read a few paragraphs aloud. Encourage the other students to follow along silently in their books. If you have a student who is unwilling or unable to read in front of the group make arrangements to do his or her evaluation privately at another time.

COMMENTS:
LESSON SEVEN

Objectives

1. To discuss the main ideas and events from "Alicia Who Sees Mice" to "A Rice Sandwich"
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "Chanclas" through "Born Bad"
3. To preview the study questions
4. To read the chapters

Activity #1

Give each student four 1"x2" strips of colored paper or index cards--one blue, one yellow, one green, one pink. Have them put a large letter A on the blue paper, B on the yellow, C on the green, and D on the pink. Distribute copies of the Multiple Choice/Quiz questions for the chapters.
Ask students to read the first question and hold up the colored paper for the correct answer. Then have them mark the correct answer on their worksheets.

Activity #2

Write the five vocabulary words on the board. Ask students if they already know the meanings of any of the words. Invite students to guess the meanings, and list them on the board.
Then have them complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet. Compare students' guesses with the actual meanings. Ask volunteers to use the words in sentences.

Activity #3

Give students the rest of the class time to read the chapters silently and answer the study questions.
LESSON EIGHT

Objectives
1. To discuss the main ideas and events in chapters titled "Chanclas" through "Born Bad"
2. To identify types of figurative language in the novel

Activity #1
Have small groups of students choose one of the questions and prepare a two-minute skit to answer the question. After all groups have presented their skits, go over students' written answers to the questions.

Activity #2 Minilesson: Figures of Speech
Figures of speech are literary devices that give the writer a non-literal way to describe images and events. Use the following chart to give examples of the different figures of speech. Then write "My papa's hair is like a broom, all up in the air" on the board. (Esperanza uses this description of her father's hair on page 6, "Hairs" of The House on Mango Street. Ask students to identify the type of figure of speech (simile.) Talk about the literal meaning. Distribute the Figure of Speech worksheet and have students work in small groups to find examples in the novel. If you want the students to continue recording examples in the remaining chapters, assign a due date for the worksheet.

Example from the novel:
Until then I am a red balloon, a balloon tied to an anchor. "Boys & Girls"
FIGURES OF SPEECH

Cliché
A cliché is an expression that has been used repeatedly, and has lost its appeal. For example: white as snow, bright and early.

Hyperbole
Extreme exaggeration used to describe a person or thing.
For example: She had as many pairs of shoes as there are stars in the sky.

Irony
The use of words to express something different from and often opposite to their literal meaning.

Metaphor
A comparison without the words like or as. For example, The cat is a bag of bones.

Metonymy
A figure of speech in which one word or phrase is substituted for another with which it is closely associated, as in the use of Washington for the United States government or of the sword for military power.

Onomatopoeia
The use of words such as buzz or splash that imitate the sounds associated with the objects or actions they refer to.

Paradox
A seemingly self-contradictory statement that has some truth to it.

Personification
Attributing human characteristics to inanimate objects, animals, or ideas, as in the wind howled.

Simile
A comparison using the words like or as.
FIGURES OF SPEECH

Figures of speech are literary devices that give the writer a non-literal way to describe images and events. The main types of figures of speech are hyperbole, irony, metaphor, metonymy, onomatopoeia, paradox, personification, and simile. Use the following chart to record examples of figures of speech used in The House on Mango Street. A sample has been done for you. Note: You may not find an example of each figure of speech in the novel.

LESSON NINE

Objective
To write a persuasive argument

Activity #1
Ask students if they have ever had someone try to persuade them to do something, such as a parent persuading them to eat an unfamiliar food or do a chore they don't want to do. Invite a few pairs of students to role-play such situations. Tell students they will be writing a persuasive argument based on the novel.

Activity #2
Distribute copies of Writing Assignment #2. Go over it in detail with students. Give them the rest of the class period to complete the assignment. You may want to have students present their papers orally.

Activity #3
Tell students they will have a quiz during the next class period on the chapters they have read so far.

LESSON TEN

Objectives
1. To take a quiz on the chapters read so far
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "Elenita . . ." through "No Speak English"
3. To preview the study questions
4. To read the chapters

Activity #1
Distribute copies of the multiple choice study/quiz questions. Give students about fifteen minutes to answer the questions. Collect the papers.

Activity #2
Give students about fifteen minutes to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet and go over the study guide questions.

Activity #3
Play a "Password" type game using the vocabulary words. Divide students into teams and have each team choose a player to start. Player A gives clues for a word to the Player B. If Player B guesses the word, team B gets a point. Play continues until all of the words have been used.

Give students the rest of the class period to read the assigned chapters.
WRITING ASSIGNMENT #2 - House on Mango Street

PROMPT

There are many occasions in the novel when one character tries to persuade another to do or not do something. For example, Uncle Nacho tries to persuade Esperanza to dance, and Esperanza persuades her mother to let her stay at school for lunch. Your assignment is to choose one situation from the novel, take the part of one of the characters, and persuade another character to do or not do something.

PREWRITING

First, choose the characters and the situation. Write down what you want or don't want the other person to do. Then make a list of your reasons or arguments. Think of statements to support each of your reasons, and list them under each reason. Then number the reasons in order from most to least important.

DRAFTING

Make an introductory statement in which you state your desire. Use one paragraph for each of your reasons. Use the supporting statements for each reason. Summarize your request.

PEER CONFERENCING/REVISING

When you finish the rough draft, ask another student to look at it. You may want to give the student your checklist so he/she can double check for you and see that you have included all of the information. After reading, he or she should tell you what he/she liked best about your persuasive letter, which parts were difficult to understand or needed more information, and ways in which your work could be improved. Reread your persuasive letter considering your critic's comments and make the corrections you think are necessary.

PROOFREADING/EDITING

Do a final proofreading of your persuasive letter, double-checking your grammar, spelling, organization, and the clarity of your ideas.

FINAL DRAFT

Follow your teacher's guidelines for completing the final draft of your paper.

PUBLISHING

Follow your teacher's guidelines for publishing your work.
LESSON ELEVEN

Objectives
1. To participate in a writing conference with the teacher
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "Rafaela . . ." through "What Sally Said"
3. To preview the study questions
4. To read the chapters

Activity #1
Assign the vocabulary and reading work. Ask students to work independently while you hold the writing conferences. Tell them that the answers to study guide questions for chapters from "Elenita" through "What Sally Said" will be due at the beginning of the next class period.

Activity #2
Hold individual writing conferences in a quiet corner of the room.

LESSON TWELVE

Objectives
1. To discuss the main ideas and details in chapters from "Elenita" through "No Speak English" and Rafaela . . ." through "What Sally Said"
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for chapters titled "The Monkey Garden" through "Mango Says Goodbye Sometimes"
3. To preview the study questions
4. To read the chapters

Activity #1
Divide students into small groups and have them go over the answers to the study questions. Circulate among groups and answer any questions they have.

Activity #2
While students are still in the groups, have them complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet and go over the study guide questions for the chapters titled "The Monkey Garden" through "Mango Says Goodbye Sometimes."

Activity #3
Ask for volunteers to read the chapters aloud. Tell the rest of the students to follow along in their books.
LESSON THIRTEEN

Objectives

1. To discuss the main ideas and events in chapters titled "The Monkey Garden" through "Mango Says Goodbye Sometimes"
2. To discuss The House on Mango Street at the interpretive and critical levels

Activity #1

Briefly go over the answers to the study guide questions. Ask volunteers to contribute the answers.

Activity #2

Choose the questions from the Extra Writing Assignments/Discussion Questions which seem most appropriate for your students. A class discussion of these questions is most effective if students have been given the opportunity to formulate answers to the questions prior to the discussion. To this end, you may either have all the students formulate answers to all the questions, divide the class into groups and assign one or more questions to each group, or you could assign one question to each student in your class. The option you choose will make a difference in the amount of class time needed for this activity.

Activity #3

After students have had ample time to formulate answers to the questions, begin your class discussion of the questions and the ideas presented by the questions. Be sure students take notes during the discussion so they have information to study for the unit test.

LESSON FOURTEEN

Objective

To write to express a personal opinion

Activity #1

Ask students if they have ever written in a journal or diary, or otherwise kept a record of their lives. Invite volunteers to share their experiences with the class. Tell students they will be writing an autobiographical sketch similar to one of the chapters in the novel.

Activity #2

Distribute copies of Writing Assignment #3 and go over it in detail with students. Give them the rest of the class period to work on the assignment. If it is not finished in class, assign a due date.

62. Is The House on Mango Street a good title for the book? Why or why not? If not, what title would you suggest?

63. What do you think Esperanza will do next?

64. If you were Esperanza, what would you do about living on Mango Street?

65. Did you have strong feelings while reading this book? If so, what did the author do to cause those feelings? If not, why not?

66. Will you read more of Sandra Cisneros's books? Why or why not?

67. Did Esperanza's experiences change the way you look at yourself? How?

68. Have you read any other stories similar to The House on Mango Street? If so, tell about them.

69. Would you recommend this book to another student? Why or why not?

70. What makes Sandra Cisneros a unique and different author?

71. What questions would you like to ask the author?

72. What was the funniest part of the story? What was the saddest part? What was the most exciting part?
73. What do you remember most about the story?

74. What picture did the author leave in your mind?

75. What did the book make you think about?

76. Sandra Cisneros says the book is semi-autobiographical. What are the advantages and disadvantages of using a narrator who is not the author in a novel of this style? Is it more or less effective than writing an autobiography?

77. Are the chapter titles effective? How well do they relate to the content of the chapters?
Discuss the significance of the following quotations.

1. "But the house on Mango Street is not the way they told it at all." (The House on Mango Street)

2. "For the time being, mama says. Temporary, says Papa. But I know how those things go." (The House on Mango Street)

3. "Until then I am a red balloon, a balloon tied to an anchor." (Boys & Girls)

4. "I would like to baptize myself under a new name, a name more like the real me, the one nobody sees." (My Name)

5. "In the meantime they'll just have to move a little farther north from Mango Street, a little farther away every time people like us keep moving in." (Cathy Queen of Cats)

6. "Nenny says: Yes, that's Mexico all right. That's what I was thinking exactly." (Laughter)

7. "And then I don't know why, but I have to turn around and pretend I don't care about the box so Nenny won't see how stupid I am." (Gil's Furniture Bought and Sold)

8. "Marin, under the streetlight, dancing by herself, is singing the same song somewhere. I know. Is waiting for a car to stop, a star to fall, someone to change her life." (Marin)

9. "All brown all around, we are safe. But watch us drive into a neighborhood of another color and our knees go shakity-shake and our car windows get rolled up tight and our eyes look straight." (Those Who Don't)

10. "But after a while you get tired of being worried about kids who aren't even yours." (There Was an Old Woman She Had So Many Children She Didn't Know What to Do)

11. "You can never have too much sky." (Darius & the Clouds)

12. "In the canteen, which was nothing special, lots of boys and girls watched while I cried and ate my sandwich, the bread already greasy and the rice cold." (A Rice Sandwich)

13. "My uncle and me bow and he walks me back in my thick shoes to my mother who is proud to be my mother." (Chanclas)

14. "One day you wake up and they are there. Ready and waiting like a new Buick with the keys in the ignition. Ready to take you where?" (Hips)
15. "And I think if my own Papa died what I would do. I hold my Papa in my arms. I hold and hold and hold him." (Papa Who Wakes Up Tired in the Dark)

16. "Most likely I will go to hell and most likely I deserve to be there." (Born Bad)

17. "What about a house, I say, because that's what I came for.
Ah, yes, a home in the heart. I see a home in the heart.
Is that it?
That's what I see, she says, then gets up because her kids are fighting." (Elenita ...)

18. "They never saw the kitchenettes. They never knew about the two-room flats and sleeping rooms he rented, the weekly money orders sent home, the currency exchange. How could they?
(Geraldo No Last Name)

19. "There were many things Ruthie could have been if she wanted to." (Edna's Ruthie)

20. "When I am too sad and too skinny to keep keeping, when I am a tiny thing against so many bricks, then it is I look at trees. When there is nothing left to look at on this street. Four who grew despite concrete. Four who reach and do not forget to reach. Four whose only reason is to be and be. (Four Skinny Trees)

21. "My father says when he came to this country he ate ham and eggs for three months. Breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Ham and eggs. That was the only word he knew. He doesn't eat ham and eggs anymore." (No Speak English)

22. "And always there is someone offering sweeter drinks, someone promising to keep them on a silver string." (Rafaela....)

Burns, I'll say, and I'll be happy." (Bums in the Attic)

26. "I have begun my own quiet war. Simple. Sure. I am one who leaves the table like a man, without putting back the chair or picking up the plate." (Beautiful & Cruel)

27. "Who was it that said I was getting too old to play the games? Who was it I didn't listen to? I only remember that when the others ran, I wanted to run too, up and down and through the monkey garden, fast as the boys, not like Sally who screamed if she got her stockings muddy.
(The Monkey Garden)
28. "Why did you leave me all alone? I waited my whole life. You're a liar. They all lied. All the books and magazines, everything that told it wrong." (Red Clowns)

29. "When you leave, you must remember always to come back for the others. A circle, understand? You will always be Esperanza. You will always be Mango Street. You can't erase what you know. You can't forget who you are. (The Three Sisters)

30. "No, Alicia says. Like it or not you are Mango Street, and one day you'll come back, too." (Alicia & I)

31. "They will not know I have gone away to come back. For the ones I left behind. For the ones who cannot out. (Mango Says Goodbye Sometimes)
LESSON FIFTEEN

Objectives
1. To extend the story by means of a project
2. To work cooperatively in a group

Activity #1
Allow students to choose one of the following projects. Give them the class period to complete it. If students need more time, you can assign the project as homework or add another day onto the unit plan.

PROJECT IDEAS

1. Draw a book jacket that summarizes the story.
2. Write a critique of the book.
3. Make a time line showing the important events from the story.
4. Make a diorama showing one of the scenes from the book.
5. Make puppets and write a puppet show to illustrate one scene from the story.
6. Write a radio or television commercial to advertise the book.
7. Design a poster to advertise the book.
8. Make a comic book version of the story to share with younger readers.
9. Make a mobile showing the main character, secondary characters and setting.
10. Create a poster describing a scene or a character.
11. Create a poster summarizing one of the chapters.
12. Make a collage based on scenes from the book.
WRITING ASSIGNMENT #3 - House on Mango Street

PROMPT

The House on Mango Street is autobiographical, although it is not a complete autobiography. Esperanza Cordero's experiences are based on the experiences and people that Sandra Cisneros knew as a child. She includes character descriptions of the important people in her life, vivid descriptions of the places she lived, and details about the events that occurred. Most importantly, she offers an insight into her own reactions, thoughts, and feelings.

Your assignment is to write a brief autobiographical sketch, about the length of one of the chapters in the novel.

PREWRITING

Ms. Cisneros includes many vignettes in The House on Mango Street. You should try to focus on one event or memory, much as Cisneros has done in her short chapters. It may help you to make a timeline of the significant events in your life. Then you can choose what you want to write about.

You may want to interview people who knew you as a young child. You should prepare a list of questions ahead of time for them to answer, and also be ready to listen to them reminisce. You may want to tape record the interviews so that you can listen to them again as you are writing. It may also be helpful to look at old photographs. If you have moved, and if possible, visit the neighborhood where you used to live.

Organize the events in a chronological order so that the reader can follow the events as they occurred in your life.

DRAFTING

First, write a paragraph in which you introduce an important event in your life. Make sure you include background information about the setting (year, location) and the other people involved.

In the body of your autobiographical sketch, continue telling about the event or events, adding details about the other people involved. Make sure to include observations about your own thoughts and feelings.

Finally, write a concluding paragraph in which you talk about the ways that the event/events you wrote about have influenced your life today.

PEER EDITING/REVISING

When you finish the rough draft of your paper, ask another student to read it. After reading your rough draft, he/she should tell you what he/she liked best about your work, which parts were difficult to understand, and ways in which your work could be improved. Reread your paper considering your critic's comments, and make the corrections you think are necessary.
LESSON SIXTEEN

Objectives
1. To compare predictions made at the beginning of the novel with actual events
2. To complete all previous assignments

Activity #1
Use the rest of the class period to have students go through their notes and worksheets and check to see that all work has been completed.

Activity #2
If students have completed all assignments and there is extra class time, choose one of the Unit Review activities in Lesson 18 or 19 and do it now.

LESSON SEVENTEEN

Objectives
1. To widen the breadth of students' knowledge about the topics discussed or touched upon in The House on Mango Street
2. To check students' non-fiction assignments

Activity
Ask each student to give a brief oral report about the nonfiction work he/she read for the nonfiction assignment. Your criteria for evaluating this report will vary depending on the level of your students. You may wish for students to give a complete report without using notes of any kind, or you may want students to read directly from a written report, or you may want to do something in between these two extremes. Just make students aware of your criteria in ample time for them to prepare their reports.

Start with one student's report. After that, ask if anyone else in the class has read on a topic related to the first student's report. If no one has, choose another student at random. After each report, be sure to ask if anyone has a report related to the one just completed. That will help keep a continuity during the discussion of the reports.

Invite students to give positive feedback to the speakers. You may want to have students write a short note to the speaker after each presentation and pass the note to the speaker.
LESSON EIGHTEEN

Student Objective
To review all of the vocabulary work done in this unit

VOCABULARY REVIEW ACTIVITIES

1. Divide your class into two teams and have an old-fashioned spelling or definition bee.

2. Give individuals or groups of students a Vocabulary Word Search Puzzle. The person (group) to find all of the vocabulary words in the puzzle first wins.

3. Give students a Vocabulary Word Search Puzzle without the word list. The person or group to find the most vocabulary words in the puzzle wins.

4. Put a Vocabulary Crossword Puzzle onto a transparency on the overhead projector and do the puzzle together as a class.

5. Give students a Vocabulary Matching Worksheet to do.

6. Use words from the word jumble page and have students spell them correctly.

7. Play Vocabulary Bingo with the materials enclosed with this unit. The Caller calls out definitions for the vocabulary words. If a student has that word on his/her card, that word is covered with a piece of paper. When someone gets a column, row, or diagonal filled-in he/she yells out, "Bingo!" and wins that round.

8. Have students write a story in which they correctly use as many vocabulary words as possible. Have students read their compositions orally. Post the most original compositions on your bulletin board.

9. Have students work in teams and play charades with the vocabulary words.

10. Select a word of the day and encourage students to use it correctly in their writing and speaking vocabulary.

11. Have a contest to see which students can find the most vocabulary words used in other sources. You may want to have a bulletin board available so the students can write down their word, the sentence it was used in, and the source.
LESSON NINETEEN

Objective
To review the main ideas presented in The House on Mango Street

Activity #1
Choose one of the review games/activities included in the packet and spend your class period as outlined there.

Activity #2
Remind students of the date for the Unit Test. Stress the review of the Study Guides and their class notes as a last minute, brush-up review for homework.

REVIEW GAMES / ACTIVITIES
1. Ask the class to make up a unit test for The House on Mango Street. The test should have 4 sections: multiple choice, true/false, short answer and essay. Students may use ½ period to make the test, including a separate answer sheet, and then swap papers and use the other ½ class period to take a test a classmate has devised.

2. Take ½ period for students to make up true and false questions (including the answers). Collect the papers and divide the class into two teams. Draw a big tic-tac-toe board on the chalk board. Make one team X and one team O. Ask questions to each side, giving each student one turn. If the question is answered correctly, that student's team's letter (X or O) is placed in the box. If the answer is incorrect, no mark is placed in the box. The object is to get three marks in a row like tic-tac-toe. You may want to keep track of the number of games won for each team.

3. Take ½ period for students to make up questions (true/false and short answer). Collect the questions. Divide the class into two teams. You'll alternate asking questions to individual members of teams A & B (like in a spelling bee). The question keeps going from A to B until it is correctly answered, then a new question is asked. A correct answer does not allow the team to get another question. Correct answers are +2 points; incorrect answers are -1 point.

4. Allow students time to quiz each other (in pairs) from their study guides and class notes.

5. Give students a crossword puzzle to complete.

6. Play bingo using the materials included with this unit. The Caller gives clues to which the students must know the one-word answer. If that answer appears on their cards, they place a piece of paper over that word. The first student to have a filled-in row, column or diagonal (like bingo) wins! (You should have students call off their filled-in words to make sure that all of their responses were correct).
7. Divide your class into two teams. Use the crossword words with their letters jumbled as a word list. Student 1 from Team A faces off against Student 1 from Team B. You write the first jumbled word on the board. The first student (1A or 1B) to unscramble the word wins the chance for his/her team to score points. If 1A wins the jumble, go to student 2A and give him/her a clue. He/she must give you the correct word which matches that clue. If he/she does, Team A scores a point, and you give student 3A a clue for which you expect another correct response. Continue giving Team A clues until some team member makes an incorrect response. An incorrect response sends the game back to the jumbled-word face off, this time with students 2A and 2B. Instead of repeating giving clues to the first few students of each team, continue with the student after the one who gave the last incorrect response on the team.

8. Take on the persona of "The Answer Person." Allow students to ask any question about the book. Answer the questions, or tell students where to look in the book to find the answer.

9. Students may enjoy playing charades with events from the story. Select a student to start. Give him/her a card with a scene or event from the story. Allow the players to use their books to find the scene being described. The first person to guess each charade performs the next one.

10. Play a categories-type quiz game. (A master is included in this Unit Plan). Make an overhead transparency of the categories form. Divide the class into teams of three or four players each. Have each team choose a recorder and a banker. Choose a team to go first. That team will choose a category and point amount. Ask the question to the entire class. (Use the Study Guide Quiz and Vocabulary questions.) Give the teams one minute to discuss the answer and write it down. Walk around the room and check the answers. Each team that answers correctly receives the points. (Incorrect answers are not penalized; they just don't receive any points). Cross out the square on the playing board. Play continues until all squares have been used. The winning team is the one with the most points. You can assign bonus points to any square or squares you choose.

11. Have individual students draw scenes from the book. Display the scenes and have the rest of the class look in their books to find the chapter or section that is being depicted. The first student to find the correct scene then displays his or her picture. When the game is over, collect the pictures and put them in a binder for students to look at during their free time.

NOTE: If students do not need the extra review, omit this lesson and go on to the test.
LESSON TWENTY

Objective
To demonstrate understanding of the vocabulary, main themes and events in The House on Mango Street by taking a test

Activity
Distribute copies of the test. Allow the entire class period for the test.

B 10. trees               J.  Esperanza's nationality

II. Short Answer

1. Describe the house on Mango Street.
   It is small and red, with small windows. Some of the bricks are crumbling. The front door is hard to open. There is no front yard. There is a small garage in the back. The house has stairs, but only one bedroom and one bathroom.

2. What is special about the tree in Meme's yard?
   The kids chose it for their First Annual Tarzan Jumping Contest. Although he won, Meme broke both arms during the contest.

3. What matters, according to Marin?
   It matters if the boys see them and they see the boys.

4. What happened when Esperanza took the note asking if she could stay for lunch?
   The nun said she could only stay that day. She cried in the canteen and ate her greasy, cold sandwich.

5. What did the girls do to Aunt Lupe? Why did they do it? What happened to Aunt Lupe that day? What did Esperanza's mother say about it?
   The girls pretended to be like Aunt Lupe. They mimicked her laugh, walk, and speech. She died the day they were making fun of her. Esperanza's mother said she was born on an evil day and would go to hell.
The House on Mango Street is the story of a young girl who grows up in a barrio neighborhood in Chicago. Before they moved to Mango Street, the (1) CORDERO family lived in a house on (2) LOOMIS Street. They lived in several other places before that. UNIT RESOURCE MATERIALS
BULLETIN BOARD IDEAS - House on Mango Street

1. Save one corner of the board for the best of students' writing assignments.

2. Take one of the word search puzzles from the extra activities packet and with a marker copy it over in a large size on the bulletin board. Write the clue words to find to one side. Invite students prior to and after class to find the words and circle them on the bulletin board.

3. Write several of the most significant quotations from the book onto the board on brightly colored paper.

4. Make a bulletin board listing the vocabulary words for this unit. As you complete sections of the novel and discuss the vocabulary for each section, write the definitions on the bulletin board. (If your board is one students face frequently, it will help them learn the words.)

5. Collect pictures of the area mentioned in the book.

6. Make a display of pictures of book jackets and artwork from the various editions of The House on Mango Street.

7. Display articles about Sandra Cisneros and other Chicana/Chicano writers.

8. Have students design postcards depicting the settings of the book.

9. Create a "memory box" bulletin board of items mentioned in the novel.

10. Have students illustrate a quote from the novel. Display the illustrations and quotations on the bulletin board.
EXTRA ACTIVITIES - House on Mango Street

One of the difficulties in teaching a novel is that all students don't read at the same speed. One student who likes to read may take the book home and finish it in a day or two. Sometimes a few students finish the in-class assignments early. The problem, then, is finding suitable extra activities for students.

The best thing I've found is to keep a little library in the classroom. For this unit on House on Mango Street, you might check out from the school library other related books by Sandra Cisneros. There are also many other novels by ethnic or women writers that students would enjoy reading. Several journals have critiques of Cisneros' works. Some of the students may enjoy reading these and responding either in writing or in discussion groups. Encourage students to find critiques on web sites as well.

Your students who have reading difficulties, or speak English as a second language, may benefit from listening to all or part of the book on tape. Perhaps your above-average readers could take turns tape recording chapters of the book.

Other things you may keep on hand are puzzles. We have made some relating directly to House on Mango Street for you. Feel free to duplicate them.

Some students may like to draw. You might devise a contest or allow some extra-credit grade for students who draw characters or scenes from Mango Street. Note, too, that if the students do not want to keep their drawings you may pick up some extra bulletin board materials this way. If you have a contest and you supply the prize (a CD or something like that perhaps), you could, possibly, make the drawing itself a non-returnable entry fee.

The pages which follow contain games, puzzles and worksheets. The keys, when appropriate, immediately follow the puzzle or worksheet. There are two main groups of activities: one group for the unit; that is, generally relating to the text, and another group of activities related strictly to the vocabulary.

Directions for these games, puzzles and worksheets are self-explanatory. The object here is to provide you with extra materials you may use in any way you choose.
1. Pick a chapter or scene with a great deal of dialogue and have the students act it out on a stage. (Perhaps you could assign various scenes to different groups of students so more than one scene could be acted and more students could participate.)

2. Have students design a book cover (front and back and inside flaps).

3. Have students design a bulletin board (ready to be put up; not just sketched).

4. Invite a story teller to tell one or more stories related to The House on Mango Street.

5. Help students design and produce a talk show. Choose one of the story incidents as the topic. The host will interview the various characters. Students should make up the questions they want the host to ask the characters.

6. Have students work in pairs to create an interview with one of the characters. One student should be the interviewer and the other should be the interviewee. Students can work together to compose questions for the interviewer to ask. Each pair of students could present their interview to the class.

7. Invite students who have read other books by Sandra Cisneros to present book talks to the class.

8. Have students hold small group discussions related to topics in the book. Assign a recorder and a speaker for each group. Have the speaker from each group make a report to the class.

9. Cisneros brings up many issues regarding the role of women in her Mexican-American culture, as well as issues of racial prejudice. Invite volunteers to hold a panel discussion on one of these topics.
